Stay With the Boat and You'll Live Longer

Telegraph item on this page yesterday reported that four men from Missouri were fishing on Bull Shoals Lake when a storm came up and capsized their craft.

Three of the men stayed with the overturned boat and finally got to shore safely—but the fourth struck out for himself and drowned.

This is the oldest tragedy of the outdoors—leaving the safety of a boat for the unknown gamble of testing your ability to swim ashore. Today's boats are manufactured to be sink-proof. They have either styro-foam floatation bulkheads or double bottoms. Mine has both. Open the drain plug and the boat will fill to a depth of only a few inches. Therefore a boat is a safe thing to hang onto in an emergency.

Man isn't the only creature who makes mistakes on the water. The Star's general manager, Paul H. Jones, and Luther B. Tooley, former manager of Radio Station KXAR, were fishing on Narrows Reservoir several years ago when they noted what they thought was a fawn attempting to swim across both the main channel and Cowhide Cove—a distance of nearly two miles. To their surprise the animal, having spotted their boat, changed course and headed for them—not what you would expect of a deer.

And when the animal came up to them he turned out to be the most worn-out and panicked deer hound you ever met.

He had underestimated the width of the lake, of course, while chasing a heard of deer, and nearly paid with his life. The Hope men set him safely on the far side of the lake—and I trust the rascal learned a lesson and went home.

U.S. Offers Plan for Money Crisis

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — Common Market nations and Britain rejected today a U.S. compromise plan to settle the worst international monetary crisis since World War II, well-placed sources said.

The sources, who sat in on the meetings, reported the Europeans are insisting in a dollar devaluation against gold as part of a solution. The United States so far has refused to do this. The sources added there seem to be room for further bargaining.

The United States offered Monday to drop the 10 per cent import surcharge President Nixon imposed Aug. 15 if the other nations of the group of ten revalued their currencies upward by an average of 11 per cent, including 20 per cent for the Japanese yen, 15 per cent for the West German mark and less for the other currencies.

The U.S. proposal was presented by Paul A. Polcker, treasury undersecretary for monetary affairs, at a preliminary meeting that opened the three-day conference of the non-Communist world's strongest trading powers.

Finance ministers of Britain and the European Common Market were meeting first today to chart a response to the American proposal.

Charges India Is Widening Fighting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The East Pakistan military command claims Sunday night that the Indian army is widening the fighting along the border of the rebellious province, with fighting continuing in at least two sectors.

There were no new action reports from the Indian government.

An army spokesman in Dacca, capital of East Pakistan, reported new Indian attacks in the northern Sylhet region, the Mymensingh sector in the north, and in the Jessore region to the southwest. He reported "fierce fighitng is continuing" at Kalampur, in the Mymensingh area, but said the Indians were repulsed with heavy casualties in Sylhet and in Jessore.

However, the spokesman reported that Indian forces in the Jessore sector had occupied the town of Jibannagar, widening the front there and threatening Pakistani control of 165 square miles of territory that thrusts into India.

He also claimed that a three-prong attack launched Sunday in the Dinajpur region, on the northwest border, had been contained on two sides, but said a fierce battle continued on the third.

India has admitted some of its troops have been fighting inside East Pakistan but claims they have crossed the border only to defend themselves after attack by the Pakitanis. The Indians claim that most of the fighting is being done by East Pakistani rebels trying to wrest control of the province from the central government of President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan. The fighting began March 25 when Yahya's troops entered East Pakistan in force in an attempt to crush a movement for autonomy.

Yahya requested Sunday that U.N. observers be posted on the Pakistani side of East Pakistan's border to report any frontier violations by India, the Pakistani government reported.

Inside East Pakistan, Bengali villagers claimed the Pakistani army has wiped out several villages on the outskirts of Dacca, apparently to clear a defense perimeter around the city.

Survivors claimed 300 persons were killed in one series of attacks over the weekend.

Associated Press photographer Michel Laurent visited three of the villages seven miles north of Dacca and found most of the thatched roof, bamboo huts had been burned down. The army blocked his attempts to visit other villages which were reported razed.

To Pave Cross Roads to Washington Route

All interested persons are advised that the construction of Highway 195 from Cross Roads to Washington in Hempstead County is being planned by the Arkansas State Highway Commission.

The project begins at the junction of State Highways 73 and 195 at Cross Roads and extends north generally following the existing route to a point near the west city limits of Washington, a distance of approximately 3.46 miles.

The proposed project generally consists of grading, minor drainage structures, stabilized base, bituminous surfacing, sealed shoulders, one bridge length box culvert and one bridge.

Plans showing location and design of the proposed route and information relative to environmental studies are available for public inspection at the office of the District Engineer, Arkansas State Highway Department, 1515 West 3rd Street, Hope, Arkansas.

Death Sentence at Helena

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Enous O'Neal, 39, of Helena was sentenced Monday to be electrocuted Jan. 28, 1972.

Circuit Court Judge O. H. Hargraves formally sentenced O'Neal, who was convicted last week of first-degree murder in the March 1 shotgun slaying of Robert Nathan, 25, of Phillips County.

Veto Threat Seen as a Polite Pressure Move

By ROBERT L. CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Powerful House and Senate Democrats view President Nixon's threatened veto of a pending tax bill as a velvet glove attempt to knock out campaign financing and tax relief provisions he doesn't like.

"It's a polite way to put pressure on ... ," Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Monday. "It's not the first time a statement like that has been made."

Nixon met for three hours Monday with his chief Capitol Hill lobbyist Clark MacGregor, who emerged to tell newsmen that amendments tacked on the original $26 million bill would "balloon" the federal budget.

The bill—a part of Nixon's new economic program—has been cleared in varying forms from the House and Senate and is now under consideration by a joint conference committee.

The House version was reportedly acceptable to the White House, but Senate Democrats added a number of provisos Nixon said he finds unacceptable. Now the conference committee must iron out the differences before the measure goes to the President and a possible veto.

One change backed by the debt-ridden Democratic party would allow individuals to earmark $1 of their income taxes to finance presidential campaigns. It would help both parties, but is not needed as badly by Republicans who reportedly have a $40 million surplus.

Other Senate revisions would give tax relief to parents of college students; increase to $800 the personal income tax exemption, and give tax credits to firms which locate in ghetto or rural areas.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon concluded after meeting with his aides "that, should Congress fail to remove ... the budget-busting Senate amendments and the political check-off rider, he will be unable to give his approval to this particular legislation."

MacGregor told newsmen the amendments "ballooned" the tax bill's provisions to over $40 billion, would increase the federal deficit and "thus are highly inflationary."

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, heads the House conferees. He has said if Nixon vetoes the bill, it will be impossible to pass a tax measure this year.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and head of the Senate conferees, called Nixon's threat an attempt at intimidation and expressed doubt the President would veto the bill.

But he added: "I believe we ought to give him the chance."

Nixon Going to Peking Feb. 21

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will arrive in Peking on Feb. 21 for talks with Chinese leaders—a historic mission he hopes "will become a journey for peace"

The White House announced the long-awaited date on Monday, although presidential adviser Henry Kissinger reached agreement on the trip's timing during his second trip to Peking a month ago.

Further details, including the length of Nixon's visit, were to be made public today, according to White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

A terse joint statement released simultaneously in Washington and Peking said:

"The government of the People's Republic of China and the government of the United States of America have agreed that President Nixon's visit to China shall begin on Feb. 21, 1972."

It followed a week of announcements about a series of presidential summit meetings in December and January with allied leaders.

The Peking trip will come about three months before Nixon travels to Moscow in late May for talks with Soviet leaders. He will be the first American president to visit either Peking or Moscow.

In December and early January, Nixon will hold separate talks with the leaders of France, Britain, West Germany, Japan, and Canada.

Ziegler, after reading Monday's statement, harked back to Nixon's bombshell announcement July 15 that the China trip was being arranged.

He noted that Nixon said then the purpose of the meeting "is to seek the normalization of relations between the two countries and also to exchange views on questions of concern to the two sides."

Nixon also has said he anticipates the Peking trip will be "a very busy, working visit" and that "ceremony ... will be at an absolute minimum."

In the weeks ahead, another team of White House officials is expected to fly to mainland China to work out remaining technical details for the President's trip. Contrary to some published and broadcast reports, Ziegler said Monday that preparations for Nixon's visit "continue to go well"

Ruling Monday on Firings

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Federal Judge Paul X Williams said Monday he will render an opinion by Dec. 20 on whether Texarkana city officials had the right to fire three employes of the Model Cities program.

The plaintiffs are Harold Langford, Mrs. Viola Ribble and Mrs. Jimmie Johnson.

The three said they were "discriminatorially, arbitrarily and insidiously" dismissed from their jobs.

Williams said he will rule on whether the city had a right to fire the three, whether the three have a right to be hired by the program and whether the three should continue to work for the program.

Derailment Brings Stamps Evacuation

STAMPS, Ark. (AP) — City Marshall Kenneth Creech of Stamps says about 300 residents of this Lafayette County town were evacuated Monday night after about five cars of a Cotton Belt Lines freight train derailed.

Creech said one of the cars contained liquefield petroleum gas and that another contained chlorene gas.

He said the car containing chlorene gas was righted and hauled away. Creech said the car containing LP gas remained on the ground this morning.

Creech said the residents were evacuated about 11 p.m. and allowed to return to their homes about three hours later. He said officers had no trouble persuading the residents to leave their homes.

"We had them going," Creech said. "They were coming out of there fast."

State Hospital Must Justify More Employes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Hospital was asked Monday to explain why the Little Rock unit had more employes but sometimes less work than the Benton unit.

The request was made by the Legislative Council Committee on Charitable, Penal and Correctional Institutions at the suggestion of Rep. Lacy Landers of Benton.

A council study showed that in the 1970-71 fiscal year the Little Rock unit had 878 employes and 157,000 days of in-patient treatment while the Benton unit's totals were 800 and 560,000.

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott said a substantial part of the difference in days of in-patient treatment was due to the fact that the Benton unit has about 200 mentally retarded adults as patients.

Board Warns Utilities of Rollback in Hikes, Ford Increase Okayed

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has become the third big auto-maker to win approval of a price hike from the Price Commission.

In approving the 2.9 per cent hike for 1972 Ford cars, trucks and optional equipment Monday, the panel also put large public utilities on notice their rate increases are subject to rollback.

Utilities with annual revenues of $50 million or more were told to report to the commission when they ask for increases from state regulatory bodies.

Even if a regulatory agency approves an increase, the commission said it "reserves the right to reduce the rates if necessary."

The panel said utility rates would be eyed carefully for inflationary trends, though expansion to meet future power and service needs would be allowed.

In other business, the commission for the first time denied a price increase on grounds that a firm's profits have been too high to allow it.

Though Oscar Meyer Co. had asked approval of a modest 1.31 per cent price rise, the commission said when compared with the base period, the company's pre-price-freeze profit margins were sufficient to cover added productivity costs.

But productivity costs for Ford, the commission ruled, were sufficient to permit an increase. The company had originally asked an okay for a 2 per cent hike, but upped the figure to 4.4 per cent before the commission acted.

Among the other auto makers, American Motors has won approval of a 2.5 per cent increase and Chrysler a 4.5 per cent hike. Chrysler said, however, it would raise prices only 3 per cent.

The commission has yet to be heard from on a 3 per cent price increase proposed by General Motors, the nation's largest car maker.

Search for Jumping Hijacker About Over

WOODLAND, Wash. (AP) — An airplane hijacker has vanished with two parachutes and $200,000, and the search for him has ended for all but the FBI.

A University of Washington sociologist calls the sky piracy an "awesome feat in the battle of man against the machine."

Dr. Otto Larsen said the skyjacker apparently has won public admiration as "one man overcoming, for the time being anyway, technology, the corporation, the establishment, the system."

Thus, Larsen said, the hijacker "comes off as a kind of curious Robin Hood, taking from the rich—or at least the big and complex. It doesn't matter whether he gives it to the poor or not."

FBI officials in Portland, Ore., and Seattle say they will continue their pursuit of the man who apparently bailed out of the hijacked Northwest Airlines jetliner last week as it flew from Seattle to Reno, Nev.

But local law enforcement agencies have turned to other chores.

"There's nothing new and we've taken our men off unless something else turns up," a spokesman for the Clark County, Wash., sheriff's office said Monday of the search for the hijacker in the brushy, timbered Cascade Mountain foothills of southwest Washington.

The FBI continued questioning dozens of persons who believed they recognized a composite sketch of the hijacker, but the investigators reported no success in finding a definite lead.

Officials said they had concentrated the search around Woodland because the jetliner's flight recorder had indicated small shifts in the plane's air position as it passed over the area.

Law enforcement officers searching for the hijacker were faced with three major disadvantages—surprise, piecemeal evidence and the meticulous planning which apparently went into the deed, the first involving the escape of a hijacker by parachute.

Fire Destroys Hotel at Camden

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Police Chief Bill Allison of Camden says authorities are holding a suspect in connection with a "suspicious fire" early today that destroyed three buildings in downtown Camden, including the Orlando Hotel.

Ben Owen, owner of the hotel, said all occupants of the hotel escaped.

Earnest Fritts, 75, an occupant of the hotel, was hospitalized after officers kicked in the door of his room. Fred Jarvis, a fireman, was treated for minor burns at a Camden hospital and released.

In addition to the hotel, the fire destroyed a B. F. Goodrich store and a Westbrook Auto Supply store.

Police Lt. J. T. Vaughan said he discovered smoke coming out of the rear of the B. F. Goodrich store while on patrol about 1:30 a.m. He said he alerted fire department officials.

The fire apparently spread to the auto supply store and then across an alley to the hotel.

Vaughan said he apprehended a man leaving the scene shortly after he noticed the smoke. Officers refused to identify the man.

Vaughan said officers began evacuating the hotel about 2:30 a.m., but that there was no way of knowing immediately whether some persons had failed to leave the building.

Two firms across the street from the B. F. Goodrich store—Pine Ford Co. and a Western Auto Supply store—were slightly damaged. Authorities said some new cars were scorched.

Four Charged at Magnolia

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Four persons were arrested here Monday and charged with burglary in the theft of about $13,000 in goods from the Mark Hanson residence in nearby Mount Vernon, sheriff's officers said.

The four were identified as Thomas Bryant, Earl Petron, Robert Baker and his wife, Gladys Baker, authorities said. Police said about $1,000 worth of goods thought owned by Hanson had been recovered.

May Initiate Prison Cannery

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Charitable, Penal and Correctional Institutions Committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council adopted a report Monday suggesting that canning be given top priority as a possible training industry in the state's prisons.

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, the committee's chairman, made the report.

Hendrix made the report following a tour of the Texas prisons Nov. 4-5 by state officials.

Correction Commissioner Terrell Don Hutto worked in the Texas prison system, before coming to Arkansas earlier this year.

The report also suggested that garment manufacturing, school bus repairing and printing and publication work also be considered.

Paratroopers in New Push in Cambodia

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — About 300 South Vietnamese paratroopers made a new thrust 20 miles inside eastern Cambodia today, landing by helicopter about four miles southeast of Dam Be.

U.S. B52 bombers and South Vitnamese fighter-bombers softened up the area in advance of the landing, and the paratroopers met no resistance initially. Dam Be has been a major supply depot and staging area for North Vietnamese attacks along Highway 7, about 18 miles to the south, and for forays into South Vietnam.

Other paratroopers pushed to within 10 miles of the Chup rubber plantation, one of the major targets of the 25,000-man South Vietnamese offensive in eastern Cambodia. Chup is believed to be the headquarters of the North Vietnamese 9th Division, which has been putting pressure on Cambodian forces to the west.

North Vietnamese gunners slammed 50 mortar shells into the paratroopers positions near Chup, killing three and wounding five. Other small patrol clashes were reported in the area, but there has been no major fighting in the eight-day-old offensive along Route 7 and to the north of the highway.

The announced aim of the offensive is to keep three North Vietnamese divisions totaling between 12,000 and 15,000 combat troops away from South Vietnam's border and at the same time to ease pressure on Cambodian forces.

Lt. Col. Do Viet, the spokesman at the headquarters in Tay Ninh for the operation, told newsmen 213 North Vietnamese troops had been killed during the first week, 168 of them by air strikes.

No evidence was offered to substantiate this claim, and daily communiques have not indicated this many enemy being killed, and the colonel reported only 21 weapons captured, which also made the claim highly suspect.

Viet said South Vietnamese casualties were light.

He also reported that 452 cases of arms and supplies had been destroyed, but he did not elaborate. Presumably they were small cases.

The U.S. Command announced that U.S. helicopters flew about 300 missions in support of the South Vietnamese along Highway 7 during the 24 hours ending at dawn Tuesday. It was the biggest total American choppers have logged since the drive was launched Nov. 22. The command spokesman, Maj. Richard Gardner, denied there had been a corresponding increase in enemy activity.

Lions Hear About Bees

JOE PARKHILL

Hope Lions learned the importance of bees in agriculture Monday during the weekly luncheon at the Town & Country.

In a program arranged by chairman Haskell Jones, the group viewed a movie, "Bees for Hire", and heard remarks on the importance of bees from Joe Parkhill, Director of the Apiary Department of the State of Arkansas.

Mr. Parkhill said that the bee population had declined due to use of insecticides in recent years but that Arkansas had not suffered as many losses as most states in connection with these chemicals.

Birds and insects other than bees help pollinate crops, but the bee seems to be better equipped for the job, having pollen pockets on his legs so that he can handle a larger load. Bees are responsible for pollinating ninety or more different crops. In California, twenty-five thousand hives are used to pollinate the almond crop needed each year by the Hershey Corporation alone. The beekeepers receive seventeen to nineteen dollars per hive for this service.

The movie, "Bees for Hire" was in color, and close-up scenes of the life and work of the bees were very informative and entertaining.

Evins in Fair Condition

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Doctors at Park View Hospital say Rep. Joe L. Evins, D-Tenn., is in fair condition and undergoing tests after experiencing some chest discomfort.

"He's in for a series of tests," said an Evins aide. Bill Keel. Keel said Monday he expected the 61-year-old Tennessee congressman to be released shortly.

Move Fails to Limit Control to 2 Months

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected 74-14 today a Democratic attempt to limit the extension of President Nixon's wage and price control authority to two months.

The outcome appeared to make it certain the President would win the full year's continuance, to April 30, 1973, that he has asked.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., offered the amendment to limit the extension to June 30, 1972.

Harris said he believed it would be madness for a Democratic Congress to grant such broad powers to a Republican president for a period running through and beyond the presidential election next November.

But only 13 Democratic colleagues joined the Oklahoman in supporting the shorter extension.

Also rejected 74-15 was a Harris amendment to require that antitrust actions be brought against a number of large corporations in an effort to make the national economy more competitive.

He estimated that, if the suits he sought were filed, price cuts averaging 20 per cent would result.

Nixon was set back Monday when the Senate gave near-unanimous approval to a 5.5 per cent pay raise for all federal civilians and military personnel, effective Jan. 1.

Group Meets to Discuss State of Environment

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)— About 600 persons representing business and industry, government and education will meet Wednesday and Thursday to discuss problems of the environment and how to solve them.

The meeting, the First Arkansas Environmental Congress, is sponsored by Gov. Dale Bumpers to focus attention on the need for environmental control and education.

Among the speakers will include former Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall; Roy K. Wood, Southeast regional director of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation; Jack Meadows, vice president of the Georgia Pacific Corp.; Gary North of the U.S. Geological Survey; Bumpers, and several college and university professors.

Troyt York, director of the Arkansas Planning Department, said the idea for the congress grew out of a $65,000 federal grant to the state Education Department to finance a program of environmental education in the public schools.

"What we will be trying to do (at the congress) is to get people aware of the problems and aware of the necessity for us to maintain our environment," said Mrs. Bessie Moore, coordinator of economic and environmental education for the Education Department.

One of the objects of the meeting is to get those who attend to carry the message to others. Among those who were invited are college and high school students and faculty members and representatives of state and federal agencies, the legislature, city and county governments, school administrators, business and resource producers.

York said the congress should develop major recommendations for presentation to Bumpers.

He said seven seminars would be conducted to discuss the objectives of environmental programs and how best to attain them.

The congress will not be limited solely to a discussion of pollution. It will also consider population and land use policies, environmental law and leisure and recreation policies as they relate to the environment.

"We will be discussing what kind of environment we want to live in and the managerial means to assure it," he said.

"In Arkansas, we're relatively unpolluted, though we have pockets of pollution," Mrs. Moore said. "But one of our big problems is how we are going to maintain our economic growth and at the same time maintain a desirable environment. For instance, how can you keep Northwest Arkansas — our big growth area — a beauty spot?"

Suspect Able to Stand Trial

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —James Cloer, 28, of Springdale has been found mentally able to stand trial for first-degree murder in the shooting death of his grandfather.

Bradford Cloer, 80, of Springdale was found shot to death in October. His body was found Oct. 21 on his farm by persons who were searching for him.

Circuit Judge Maupin Cummings said he had received certification that Cloer was "without psychosis."

His trial has been set for Jan. 25.

Manson Found Guilty of Two More Slayings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles Manson, facing death in the seven Tate-La Bianca murders, has been sentenced to life imprisonment in the murder of a movie stuntman and a musician.

Manson, 37, shouted his disgust at jurors and courtroom spectators after Monday's decree despite its possibility of parole.

"You're in prison! You're in prison! You're in prison!" he said with a direct stare each time at a different reporter in the front row of spectators.

He whirled in his swivel chair toward the jurors and said, "The only thing they can judge is what they are told to judge."

The Sharon Tate trial, which lasted 9½ months, resulted in the death sentences for Manson and three women codefendants for the August 1969 murders of Miss Tate and four friends in her mansion and of a wealthy market owner, Leno La Bianca and his wife.

Monday's verdict involved the asserted death of Hollywood stuntman, Donald "Shorty" Shea, 37, whose body was never found, and for the slaying of local musician Gary Hinman, 34.

Firm to Audit Ozarks Regional Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A private auditing firm is examining Ozarks Regional Commission projects following a legislative audit report which was critical of several contracts awarded in the Ozarka Industry Training Program.

The director of that program, Larry Brown, was fired in October, after it was learned that he was about to sign a $50,000 contract for consulting work to be done in his "spare" time for another state.

John Opitz, the executive director of Ozarka, said Monday night that the audit was begun Friday. He said such an audit was to have been done in August but was overlooked.

He said "the contract that we have with the industry training program required that an audit be submitted in August and this was not done.

"The audit which the legislative audit performed did not take into consideration the contract which the Ozarks Regional Commission has with the state through the industry training program," he said.

Tom McRae, the governor's liason man with Ozarka, said the audit was a "fairly routine thing."

"We're interested in sound fiscal control and in eliminating any problems that might cause questions in the future," he future," he said.

"It is a fairly logical step to take from the Ozarks Regional Commission standpoint," he said. "It is important to know that all the projects are run well."

The firm of Madigan and Baer of Little Rock is conducting the audit.

Damages Paid to Black Teacher

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Federal Judge Oren Harris awarded Monday $1,028.69 in damages to K. W. Williamson, one of five black teachers who sued the Chidester School District in Ouachita County.

The teachers maintained that they had been dismissed because of racial discrimination.

Harris said the money awarded Monday was the difference between what Williamson would have made teaching in the Chidester District as opposed to the salary he was making in the Oak Grove District in Nevada County.

Winter Fuel Shortage May Close Industries

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associatee Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief White House overseer of the nation's fuel supplies says some major industrial plants could be forced to close down this winter because of severe natural gas shortages.

W.P. Weinhold, energy specialist for the White House Office of Science and Technology, said in an interview that the heating requirements of homes and such institutions as hospitals will be met.

But, Weinhold said, some major industrial customers who buy gas on an interruptible, or "when-available" basis, are going to face major curtailment.

"In a cold winter, it could go beyond that and affect some firm industrial customers" who have contracts guaranteeing delivery, he said.

The energy specialist, who receives and reviews reports from other agencies and who sits on a joint board on fuel supplies, said the nation appears to have sufficient stocks of coal and industrial and home fuel oil as winter arrives.

It's with natural gas, he said, that "we're in the tightest spot."

His assessment follows a Federal Power Commission report Saturday that the country as a whole appears to have sufficient electrical power reserves to meet winter demands.

However, the FPC report added, some areas face possible shortages—mainly due to recent coal strike which left supplies at 60 electric power plants "critically low."

But Weinhold said the current levels are the same as they were a year ago, when there was no strike.

Residual fuel oil used extensively by major northeastern industries and power plants should be available this winter in ample supply, Weinhold said.

Temporary import quotas for home heating oil have been made permanent at the 45,000-barrel-a-day level, he said, and this should be enough to meet the needs of the Eastern Seaboard.

But with natural gas, Weinhold said, "reserves and production just haven't been increasing anywhere nearly as much as demand." In some southwestern cities, gas transmission companies have electrical plants which now use only natural gas that they should seek alternative sources of fuel because of the growing demand-production crunch, he said. In addition, some gas suppliers in the East and Midwest are turning away new customers.

With "interruptible" contracts, an industrial plant gets a lower rate with the understanding that it will be the first to be cut off if a shortage develops. Under a priority system developed last winter by the government, the last to lose service would be homes, schools, hospitals and similar customers.

Parole Is Given Trunk Murderess

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — Trunk murderess Winnie Ruth Judd has injected an aura of mystery into her forthcoming parole just as she did in her trial in the 1930s.

The state Board of Pardons and Paroles agreed Monday to release the 67-ear-old "Tiger Woman" who was convicted of the 1931 dismemberment slaying of one of her two roommates. Their bodies were found in Los Angeles, stuffed in two trunks which had been shipped from Arizona.

At the time of her trial, there were reports that she was shielding someone. She was never charged in connection with the death of the second roommate.

Asked Monday about efforts by speculators to capitalize on her memoirs, Mrs. Judd said she had been approached in prison by a man "high up in politics" who "caused me trouble years ago."

The man, whom she did not identify, "showed me pictures and told me how executions looked almost as a veiled threat," she said.

She said she left word she didn't want to see him again.

Mrs. Judd was sentenced to death at her trial in 1931, but she was spared from the gallows by a finding that she was insane. She was then sent to a mental hospital, from which she escaped seven times.

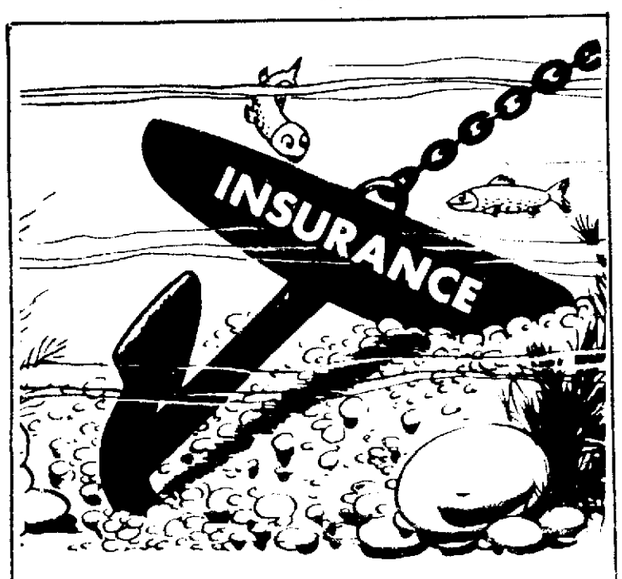

The board subsequently commuted her death sentence to life in prison and last February recommended that she be paroled, a recommendation agreed to by Gov. Jack Williams and confirmed Monday.

$3,000 From Kennel Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A $3,000 check was presented Monday by the Arkansas Kennel Club to the Arkansas Livestock Show Association to help finance an addition to the Hall of Industry on the State Fair grounds.

G. L. Dishongh of Little Rock, club president, said the club wanted to make the contribution because the hall has been the site of several annual dog shows held by the club.

The club has a show set for the hall next Sunday.

This Christmas, make neckties for the men in your life. Choose a perky bow tie, a handsome ascot or a standard four-in-hand to decorate imaginatively with trims or embroidery.

STITCHIN' TIME

No matter what the calendar says, this is the Year Of The Necktie.

Neckties are sure to be the most-sewed of all Christmas gifts, and already millions of women are stitching up 4-inch ties, 5-inch ties, bow ties and ascots to gift-wrap for millions of lucky men.

Tie-stitching is truly a quick-and-easy assignment. And the more you make, the quicker-and-easier it gets, because you can use assemblyline methods for cutting and stitching. The creative touch comes from the different fabrics and trimmings you apply.

Neckties can be made of practically any fabric, including polyesters, silks, rayon, surah, chantung, challis and the new knits. Try a bonded black lace tie for evening, a velvet tie for holidays, suede, kid or vinyl ties for casual events, even metallic or glitter ties for costume parties.

Don't overlook the possibilities of a solid-tone tie brightened by your own decorative work. A crewel monogram, diagonal rows of machine embroidery and rows of stitched-on ribbon are all effective. Look for sew-on appliques for special effects, such as the famous happy face, sports motifs, such as golf clubs and tennis rackets, or emblems, such as peace signs, ecology symbols and American flags.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

(GOT A PROBLEM? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel—or both, in care of this newspaper, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer.)

She Means "Drop Dead!"

Dear Rap:

I guess I'm the world's biggest dope.

Darlene went with me when we were sophomores, probably because she couldn't find anyone else. She wasn't very popular then, but in our junior year she made it big, and I didn't.

She stopped going with me but I'd still call her up once in a while, and try to talk to her at school. She was pretty nice at first, but the deeper she became involved with this new crowd the bitchier she got.

You can't stop loving somebody though, and I keep on hoping. Finally I wrote her a note that I guess sounded pretty desperate. I ended, "And I'll get back your friendship again or die trying." Yeah, I know it was dumb!

She returned my letter with this written on the bottom: "TRY DYING!"

Do you think she'll ever get back to being the sweet kid she once was?—RICK

P.S. What do you think my chances with her are?

DEAR RICK:

We'd say your chances with this "sweet kid" are about par with John and Ono joining Lawrence Welk's band.

And congratulations! You lucked out, whether you realize it yet or not.

Try "eyeing"—and "Hi-ing" a girl who appreciates you.—HELEN AND SUE

Dear Sue and Helen:

I'm going with this guy who loves me but I don't love him. I'm stuck on a guy who doesn't love me, but likes this other girl. She doesn't love him, but is planning to marry this other guy.

This guy I like is waiting on this other girl; I'm waiting on him; and this guy who likes me is making plans for us to be married. (Call him Number One.)

This guy I like and I have an agreement—because we've been "best friends" for a long time and can really talk together. If he doesn't get the girl he loves, I'm next in line. So he comes over to my house and we make out. You might say I've got one and one-half chances of getting married. Should I be satisfied with this?—CONFUSED BUT HAPPY

Dear Con; But Hap:

I'm happy you're happy, but I'm a little confused, too.—SUE

(P.S. Take it, Mom.)

Dear C But H:

Maybe YOU have one and one-half chances of getting married, but think of the fellow who loves you. He's making plans for a wedding that will happen only if you can't snare the man you want!

Why not consider Number One's happiness too? His chances of making it with you are pretty slim, whether he marries you or not.—HELEN

Dear Helen and Sue:

My mother smoked two and one-half packs a day and is trying to quit. If she finally quits altogether, so will my dad and brother. They have a pact. They've just GOT to stop!

Well, Mom found some butts in our trailer and asked me whose they were. I said I didn't know, but I'm not a lood liar. She thinks I was smoking, and she says okay, then she will too. Actually I only tried one to see how it was—my three girl friends were the real smokers but, if I tell on them, Mom will call their parents. She says SHE started cigarettes when she was 12, and it's her "duty to warn others."

So...I either get my friends in trouble, or give Mom an excuse to start smoking heavily again, and I'd worry my head off if she did.—WHICH?

Dear Which:

You chose a dumb time to try a cigarette!

Tell your mer something that's probably true: you watched her smoke for so long you wanted to see what the kicks were—but you'll never smoke another one if she'll stay with "the pact." This way you can leave your friends out of it.—SUE

Dear Which:

This time my daughter is softer on parents than I am. I suspect your mother was so wild for a smoke that she figured any old excuse would do—so she put you on a spot: either get your friends in trouble or "confess" and give her the right to light up.

Because nerves often make parents say things they don't mean, I'm quite sure that by now you're no longer on the hot seat. But I'm not at all sure your mother is completely off cigarettes. Let us know, okay?—HELEN

P.S. NOTE FROM BOTH OF US: Tell the girls they can't use your trailer as their smoking room. Even if they hide the butts, the cigarette smell lingers—and next time you won't cover for them.—HELEN AND SUE

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — "Home," with Sir John Gielgud and Sir Ralph Richardson, was Monday night's NET Playhouse production on public broadcasting stations and it was like a front row seat in a West End theatre.

David Storey's play—a study of loneliness and emptiness—was transferred from stage to television with great success and sensitivity. This was partly because it was a five-character production confined to a single setting, all suited to television's needs for intimacy.

The four principles of the original played their roles again. Gielgud and Richardson were two very formal, restrained British gentlemen meeting on a stone terrace. At first they engage in desultory conversation. Then each recalls his youth, speaks of his background, confesses his ambitions, while the other is completely withdrawn in his own thoughts and politely responds with such remarks as "I say!" or "By Jove."

By the time two raucous noisy women arrive, it has become obvious that all are patients in a large mental hospital. The women's wrangling conversation, a combination of vulgarity and maliciousness, is as revealing as the men's.

The fifth character is a muscular man who has had, as one woman says, "a bit of his brain nipped out" and who wanders around in a hostile fog, probably no more alone than the others.

The 90 minutes was notable for the exquisite performances of the four.

Diabetic's Diet Should Cut Fat

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Can you enlighten me? I will soon be 79, a widower for three years after a happy marriage longer than 50 years. Live alone, and do my own cooking.

In December, 1968, the doctor informed me I had diabetes and handed me a pamphlet where you exchange this for that, all Greek to me.

Went to the dietitian and talked to her for about 10 minutes. She gave me one of these pamphlets and charged me five dollars and that was all the help I had. I still feel fine, sleep good, take exercise.

I avoid sugar, do not eat cake or doughnuts, however, I do enjoy a cup of coffee with a couple of cookies about 10 in the morning. I have breakfast about 5:30 with grapefruit sections, a wheat breakfast food, with nonfat milk, and a cup of that ground coffee. My evening meal is about 3 p.m. and I have maybe broiled hamburger, potato salad, carrot salad with raisins, cottage cheese, cup nonfat milk, dish applesauce and a cup of imitation coffee. But I still don't know how to prepare a diabetic meal. Can you help me?

I am not ready to retire, as are these youngsters of age 65 plus, playing shuffleboard, riding on the bus to some scenic spot, the women all dressed up in the finery and the men, well, you name it.

Doubt I ever will if to retire means loafing when there is so much that should be done that brings me great pleasure.

I take a blue pill after each meal because Doc says so, but why, when I feel good, although I do have an impairment of my heart, and a bit of rheumatism, but it has not whipped me yet.

Dear Reader — Your doctor probably thinks you are doing fine. The first principle of a diabetic diet is to avoid or eliminate any excess body fat. Additional measures must be determined in relation to how bad the diabetes is and if insulin is required. About half of the people with mild diabetes have no trouble after they eliminate excess body fat.

Older people sometimes have a little higher blood sugar. Some doctors don't like to do too much because that too can cause harm. A diabetic test response in a person who has been on a diet and limited their carbohydrates (starches and sugar), means nothing unless the fasting blood sugar test is definitely abnormal.

I wish I could give you a full discussion on diet. You seem to be doing rather well with your present habit. What you are eating includes protein (the building material for tissue) and apparently not too many calories (the heat energy in food). A lot of people would do well to follow your example. You should take a vitamin pill once a day just in case you get lax on some foods that really are essential to your diet. If your doctor is giving you pills for your heart, it is essential that you keep taking them.

Kennedy Is Supreme in NBA Rulings

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Kennedy reigns supreme in the National Basketball Association with new powers vested in him by the 17 club owners.

Kennedy's new powers as commissioner are virtually dictatorial.

"In strengthening and enlarging his authority as Commissioner by a rare unanimous vote of the owners, we felt the best interests of the public and best interests of professional basketball are being served," said Abe Pollin, chairman of the NBA's Advisory Committee and owner of the Baltimore Bullets.

In gaining strength Kennedy was given the okay by the owners to make decisions, which cannot be appealed, on situations now covered by the by-laws and constitutions.

Kennedy also can fix a penalty whenever there is a rule that carries no specific penalty for violation.

Other unappealable powers given Kennedy:

—The right to fine any club $250,000 for tampering with a player under contract to another club.

—The right to set the date and time of all games, including playoffs, and to impose a $25,000 fine or forfeit, or both, on any club refusing to play a scheduled game.

—The right to fine, suspend or expel any person who bets on a game, directly or indirectly.

"The owners feel that the complexities of running the National Basketball Association as it is now constituted with 17 clubs necessitates the conferring of total power of administration on the Commissioner," said Pollin.

It would take a three-fourth vote by the owners to deprive Kennedy of his new powers, and if that happened, he said, he would step aside, which would mean the league would have to buy up his contract. He currently is working on a four-year agreement.

Dolphins Pour It on Bears of Chicago

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Jim Dooley, standing amid a pack of sweaty and slaughtered Chicago Bears, already had a Super Bowl pairing in mind.

"If I had to pick two teams now," said the Bears' coach, "it'd be the Minnesota Vikings against the Miami Dolphins."

Chicago had just absorbed a 34-3 prime time licking from Miami in ABC's Monday night TV game but, although professionally delighted, Dolphin Coach Don Shula wasn't ready to pack for New Orleans and the Jan. 16 title game.

"You guys can write what you want," he told a sports writing mob, "but I'm not looking past next week's game against the New England Patriots."

The Dolphins have the National Football League's finest record, an eighth straight triumph making Miami 9-1-1 with a 1½-game division lead over the world champion Baltimore Colts.

The Bears are 6-5 and noncontenders.

Bob Griese passed for two scores, hiking his NFL-leading touchdown total to 19. Larry Csonka plowed for 104 yards, recapturing the American Conference rushing lead with 878. Garo Yepremian booted field goals from 43 and 35 yards plus extra points to increase his NFL-topping scoring total to 98.

An ocean-to-ocean television audience saw the Dolphins at their best. "Maybe we convinced a few people elsewhere," said linebacker Nick Buoniconti, "that we're a pretty good team."

Shula wasn't worrying about impressions.

"I'm just concerned with our performance, not what people think," said the former Colt head coach. "Notice will come if you keep winning. There's no way you can 'lobby' for recognition."

The massacre of the Bears included a 23-9 edge in first downs and 446-197 in total offense. The frustrated Chicagoans had to go for a 15-yard goal by Mac Percival to get on the board.

Griese suffered a slight injury to his left--and nonpassing —shoulder before departing to the roar of 75,312 Orange Bowl fans. The fifth-year quarterback completed 12 of 17 for 214 yards.

Bobby Douglass, the lefty scrambler from Kansas, hit only 9 of 27 for 11 yards. He missed three straight after the Bears finally pushed to a first down at the Miami 8. Percival then trotted in to allow Chicago to evade a shutout.

Trades Highlight the Baseball Meetings

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs and Oakland A's did it, the Houston Astros and Cincinnati Reds did it and the Cleveland Indians and San Francisco Giants did it.

In fact, it seems that almost everyone was doing it Monday at the wild and wooly opening of the winter baseball meetings. Trading, that is.

As quickly as one could say "Sudden Sam" McDowell, the Indians' strikeout king was delivered to the Giants to top off an explosive day of swapping that involved 13 players, many of them big names.

The Indians, who had their problems with the temperamental but talented left-hander, landed right-handed ace Gaylord Perry and in fielder Frank Duffy as the big leagues roared through one of their biggest dealing days in history.

"I talked to McDowell, and he said: Thank you. I hope I live up to the faith you have in me," said San Francisco manager Charlie Fox, obviously elated with grabbing one of the game's top southpaws.

Everyone else was happy with his acquisitions, too.

"The game today is speed—and that's what I traded for," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson, whose Reds acquired quick-footed second baseman Joe Morgan from Houston.

Morgan and four other Astros—infielder Denis Menke, pitcher Jack Billingham, outfielder Cesar Geronimo and minor league outfielder Ed Armbrister--went to the Reds for slugger Lee May, second baseman Tommy Helms and outfielder Jimmy Stewart.

Anderson didn't mind giving up the power-hitting May, the majors' third best home run hitter last season.

"Sure, we gave up power but I think this deal now gives us a chance to play the kind of baseball I like—the running game," said Anderson. "I look to Morgan to steal 50 bases for us this coming season."

Just a couple of hours before this stunning, eight-player swap, the Cubs started things by sending southpaw star Ken Holtzman to the pitching-hungry A's for outfielder Rick Monday.

"We hated to give up Monday, he's a fine ballplayer," said Oakland Manager Dick Williams. "But to get something good, you've got to give up something good."

Alabama Moves to Second and Porkers Tie for 16th

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

All-winning Nebraska came within 14 points of a perfect score in this week's Associated Press poll, while equally unbeaten Alabama climbed into second place and set up college football's version of the Super Bowl.

It will take place on New Year's Night in Miami's Orange Bowl when the two leaders clash with the national championship at stake.

Nebraska's defending champions received 48 first-place votes and 1,086 points in the final regular-season poll from a nationwide panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters. The Cornhuskers won last week's 1-2 showdown with Oklahoma 35-31.

Alabama, an impressive 31-7 winner over previously unbeaten Auburn, earned four top votes and 938 points while Oklahoma slipped from second to third with 851 points. Many voters still rated the Sooners No. 2.

Michigan, which finished its regular season a week ago with a 11-0 record, remained fourth with two first-place votes and 764 votes while Penn State picked up the remaining top vote and moved up from sixth to fifth with 740 points. The Nittany Lions didn't play last weekwned and wind up their regular campaign Saturday at Tennessee.

Auburn's defeat dropped the Tigers from fifth to sixth. Rounding out the Top Ten were Georgia, Colorado, Arizona State and Louisiana State, the same as last week. Colorado finished earlier but Georgia defeated Georgia Tech 28-24, Arizona State whipped Arizona 31-0 and LSU trounced Tulane 36-7.

The Second Ten consisted of the same teams as a week ago, but with some shuffling. Texas replaced Tennessee as No. 11, followed by the Vols, Toledo, Notre Dame, Houston, Arkansas and Stanford tied for 16th, Mississippi and North Carolina tied for 18th and Washington No. 20.

Last week, the Second Ten was Tennessee, Texas, Notre Dame, Toledo, Houston, Stanford, Arkansas, Mississippi, North Carolina and Washington.

The Top Twenty teams, with season records and total points. Points tabulated on a basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8 etc:

1.	Nebraska	11-0	1,086
2.	Alabama	11-0	938
3.	Oklahoma	9-1	851
4.	Michigan	11-0	764

JuniorsWinTwo From Nashville

By BILL MOORE
Star Sportswriter

Nashville's players just have to face it—last night was Hope's night on the floor and no one elses.

In the first game the Kittycats took a big lead, put the reserves in, and then held on for a 45-40 victory, while the Kittens never had any doubt in their minds as they kept pulling away to demolish the Scrapper juniors, 46-21.

Led by the offensive trio of Pogo Griffen, Gail East, and Sue Henley the Kittycats started out pouring in the points as the defense of Janie York, Bonnie Roy, and Melissa Reece took charge of the rebounding and ball control on their side of the court.

Although Nashville gave an early threat when the game was knotted up at four all, Griffen and East went to work. Aided by a field goal and two free shots by Henley, the Kittycats hit a 16-6 margin as they moved into the second quarter.

East hit two quick points and then Griffen sank the next 11 points to give Hope a 29-11 cushion with 1:43 left in the first half of play. However, Nashville added five points on the shooting of Jane Ellis and the Scrapperettes closed the gap some at halftime, 29-16.

All through the third stanza the Kittycats held their ground, although only scoring ten points. Now taking a 39-20 margin into the final period of play, Hope was using all of the reserve strength, with Nashville still playing starters, hoping for the breaks.Suddenly the score started rising and by the halfway mark of the last period, the Scrapperettes had pulled to within nine points. Six straight points chopped the score to 43-40 with ten seconds to go, but East came back and sank two straight charity shots to finish the scoring and defuse the comeback.

With plenty of help from the defense the offense conntrolled the ball as Griffen sank 21 points, East netted 19, and Henley hit five.

During the course of the second game, about the only thing the Scrappers won in that one was the joy of hitting the first point of the game. Immediately afterwards Eugene Tyree hit a quick basket and then James Robinson pumped in three field goals to lift Hope upward to an 8-3 lead with 40 seconds showing on the clock in the first segment of play.

Another point made it 9-3, moving into the second quarter, and from there it was Robinson, Marshall Scott, and Mike Hobson hitting a goal each while Nashville could only manage one shot.

After a long scoring drought by both teams Hope hit two baskets at the end of the period, on a layup by Scott and a jumpshot with ten seconds left by Robinson, to put Hope in the drivers seat at halftime, 20-7. And as far as the Kittens were concerned Nashville wasn't making any kind of a comeback bid the second half.

At the outset of the second half, Hobson immediately hit two points and then using the shooting of Hobson and Johnny Harris, the Kittens moved out to a 37-15 margin with 1:29 left in the third quarter. With six seconds remaining in the period, Jim Rhodes stole the roundball, took off downcourt, and layed the ball up and in as the buzzer sounded to give Hope a 39-15 cushion with one stanza left to play.

With a lot of the reserves now entering the game, both teams went slow on the scoring and the Kittens outscored Nashville, 7-6, to nail down the final score.

High scorers for Hope were Mike Hobson with 11 points, James Robinson getting 10, Scott and Harris with eight each, and Rhodes putting in three.

Tonight the Ladycats and Bobcats host two Lewisville teams with the first contest getting underway at 6:30 p.m. at Jones Field House.

NEW YORK (AP) — Shortstop Bobby Grich, who led the International League in batting with a .332 average for Rochester, today was named Topps Minor League Player of the Year.

As top vote-getter from minor league baseball writers, Grich will receive the J. G. Taylor Spink Trophy from the Topps Chewing Gum Co. of Brooklyn.

BOSTON (AP) — Edward A. Doherty, the Holy Cross coach who took over a team that failed to win a game last year and guided it to a 4-6 record this season, was named Monday the New England Coach of the Year by the Football Writers' Association.

Hanging Out College Grid Wash

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash:

Best sign last week at the Nebraska-Oklahoma game was the one strung out across the top of one of the dorms at Norman, Okla. It didn't come true, but it read:

"We're gonna annihilate bomb cream destroy eliminate flunk grind humiliate incapacitate jinx kill liquidate massacre nail obliterate pop qwunch (sic) rip shuck trounce upset victimize wishbone x-terminate yank zonk Nebraska."

Saddest memory? Oklahoma's Chuck Fairbanks, after being grilled in the locker room, showing up later at a post-game reception and saying in a soft voice:

"Probably the most disappointing thing about the game is that we've got a great bunch of young men on this team. We worked five years trying to get a group of people together to play the way we wanted. They worked real hard to get in this position and not being able to fulfill what the kids worked for is disappointing.

"But just getting themselves in a position to challenge for No. 1 is quite an accomplishment. We just ran out of holes. We needed one more birdie. But it was the greatest game I've ever been involved in ... a classic game."

What about Alabama, Nebraska's challenger in the Orange Bowl on New Year's night?

"Alabama is a tremendously improved team since the first part of the season," says Tennessee's Bill Battle, one of the Crimson Tide's victims. "They've gotten a super coaching job. They have a good, solid defense and a great running game. They haven't had to throw the ball much all year.

"Alabama has all the attributes of a great football team. Johnny Musso isn't as fast as Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt, but he's fast enough to get where's he is going. It should be very similar to Nebraska-Oklahoma. Both teams will get on the scoreboard."

And on the subject of throwing the ball, Oklahoma doesn't put it in the air often—a mere 67 times in 10 games. But the Sooners have averaged 13.8 yards for every pass—complete or otherwise—and that's well above the national all-time record of 11.5.

When you cheat your secondary toward the line to head off the explosive Wishbone ground attack, it means you can't play a zone defense. And unless you can cover receivers man-for-man—and Oklahoma's Jon Harrison gave Nebraska defender Bill Kosch fits—it makes you vulnerable to the bomb.

It's been a typical eventful year in the Joe Paterno domain at University Park, Pa.

In 1969, Paterno made headlines when he blasted President Nixon for declaring Texas No. 1. A year ago, he challenged Eastern champion Dartmouth to come out of its Ivy League shell and settle matters on the field.

This year, Paterno and the rest of the Penn State clan have been engaged in a running battle with segments of the Eastern press over the merits of running back Lydell Mitchell and Cornell's Ed Marinaro.

Recreation Department Plans Awards Day

The Hope Parks & Recreation Department, together with the Hope Baseball League, Little League Auxiliary, Hope Football League, and all coaches, are sponsoring Awards Day to be held Sunday, December 5 at 2:00 p.m. in the Third District Coliseum.

All teams in leagues which participate in programs sponsored by the Parks & Recreation Department will be honored at Awards Day. Teams to be included are eight Doctors League teams, and one Junior American Legion team in baseball; four Pee Wee League and four Little League teams in Grade School Football; eight Junior Olympic Basketball teams; and eight teams in the girls' softball program.

The first place team in each of the above mentioned leagues will receive trophies for their achievements in the past season. A trophy will also be presented to the team in each league which best exemplifies qualities of good sportsmanship. Along with the team trophies, individual awards will be presented to deserving adults who made the programs run smoothly.

A film on the Junior Olympic Track and Field program will be shown, and it is hopeful that a well known sports figure will appear. In addition to the teams, their players, and coaches who will be honored at Awards Day, all officials, spectators, parents of players, and other interested persons are invited to attend, with a special invitation being extended to all team sponsors and city officials who provide the financial backing.

No admission will be charged, and cokes, coffee, and cookies will be served throughout the festivities. These young athletes of Hope well deserve our recognition, so plan to set aside an hour on Sunday, December 5th, for the Parks & Recreation Department's first annual Awards Day.

Opposition to Butz Is Increasing

By LARRY L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid increasing Senate opposition to the nomination of Dr. Earl L. Butz as secretary of agriculture, one Democratic senator has suggested that Kansas Republican Sen. James Pearson be named to the post.

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre of New Hampshire said Monday that Pearson, as a representative of a major agricultural state, would be the ideal Republican to speak for rural America in the President's Cabinet.

To confirm Butz, McIntyre said in a statement, "would be as inappropriate and insensitive as making George Wallace chairman of the Civil Rights Commission or Abbie Hoffman attorney general."

Pearson himself wrote to President Nixon last week asking that the nomination of Butz, 62, a former Purdue University dean, be withdrawn.

McIntyre and Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., made the same plea Monday and repeated in separate statements the case opponents have made against Butz so far.

They said he favors corporate farming over family farming, often ignores the interests of the poor and hungry, and is not responsive to pleas of environmentalists.

Harris said at least 35 senators are prepared to vote against Butz's nomination. He said he hopes a vote can be blocked when the matter reaches the Senate floor Wednesday.

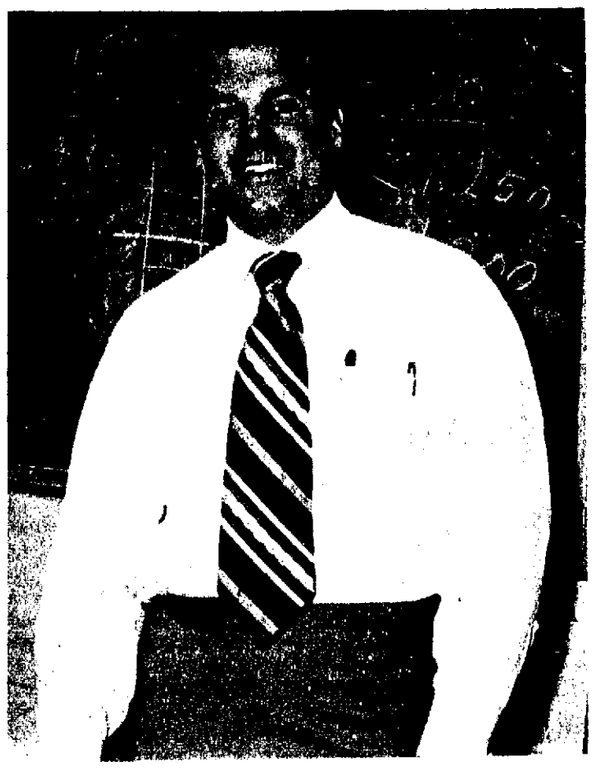

In fact, Harris said, he would like action delayed until early next year so Senate researchers can explore more deeply into Butz's background.

Some Senate sources said the number of votes against Butz is up to 41.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said, however, a head count taken by the White House shows Butz has a majority. If all senators are present, 51 comprises a majority.

Senators from farm states, however, reported their mail continued to be heavy on the subject with most of it against confirmation.

Raymond McClinton of Shreveport, Sales Engineer for Westinghouse Electric Corporation, presented a program for the Electricity Class at Red River Vocational Technical School.

McClinton presented the class with hand-outs on selection and operation of motors and troubleshooting motors.

The program, arranged by Jim McMullan, instructor, was most informative and was well received by the group.

Woman Charged in Slaying at Family Reunion

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — A charge of first-degree murder was filed here Friday by Deputy Pros. Atty. Ovid Switzer against Mrs. Mary Hall Townsend, 37, of St. Louis, Mo.

She is charged with killing John Abraham, 38, also of St. Louis, with a .38-caliber pistol during a family reunion here Thanksgiving Day.

Switzer filed a charge of assault with intent to kill against Mrs. Mary Madison of Crossett alleging that she shot Mrs. Townsend.

Also wounded were Thomas Williams, 34, of St. Louis, Urssie Abraham, 12, the dead man's daughter, and Mrs. Edna Hollins of Crossett.

Mrs. Townsend is hospitalized at El Dorado. The others have been released from the hospital.

Unemployed Seek Labor Reforms

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An official in an unemployed workers group said Monday he was encouraged by Labor Commissioner Dale Cline's response to a petition for reforms for Arkansas workers.

Harold Medlock, cochairman of the Unemployed Workers' Organizing Committee, said Cline expressed sympathy for the goals of the organization and its parent, Arkansas Community Organizations for Reform Now.

The workers group has proposed unemployment benefits for 52 weeks, unemployment benefits in proportion to a worker's dependents, payment of benefits pending appeals and payments from the first day of unemployment rather than after a week's delay.

$160 Million Crime in Eight Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is preparing to put $160 million into "high-impact" programs in eight medium-size cities as the first step in a plan to cut violent street crime and burglary by 20 per cent in the next five years.

Justice Department officials said Monday the eight cities will be selected from among those in the nation with populations between 250,000 and one million on the basis of how bad their crime problems are.

The money, to be distributed during the next two and a half fiscal years, will be dealt out by the department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration for a broad range of programs including improvement of police patrols and courts.

The emphasis will be on "far more than just police," a spokesman said.

Violent street crimes include murder, rape, robbery and assault.

Tech School Head Says He Didn't Know

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Leon Coker, Pines Vocational-Technical School director, testified Monday that he knew of no state conflict of interest law prohibiting him from doing business with the state.

He testified before a Legislative Joint Auditing Committee subcommittee about the school's purchase of 10 acres of land for $55,000 from Ten-Ark., a Pine Bluff investment club of which Coker is president.

Coker said he acted on the school's behalf in buying the land for school expansion. He considered the price a bargain, he added.

State Sen. Bill H. Walmsley of Batesville, subcommittee chairman, said the subcommittee was on a fact-finding mission and would make a report later to the full committee.

Walmsley said the purchased land would be appraised to determine whether the purchase price was appropriate.

Bumpers for Freedom of Information

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers, evidently dissatisfied with the results of one memorandum, said Monday he would circulate another urging compliance in his administration with the Freedom of Information Law.

Bumpers said the second memo would be more forceful than the first and would be given wider distribution. The first went to department heads.

The governor promised a second memo while he was meeting with the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society.

Members of the committee related to Bumpers incidents in the SDX file on alleged violations of the law. The allegations involved the Racing Commission, Contractors Licensing Board, Arkansas State University Board of Trustees, Arkansas AM&N Board of Trustees, Board of Education, Employment Security Division and other state agencies.

Found Guilty of Killing Eye Surgeon

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — A jury has found onetime auto mechanic John Linley Frazier guilty of first degree murder in the shooting deaths of wealthy eye surgeon Dr. Victor Ohta and four others.

The longhaired, slightly built 25-year-old Frazier showed no emotion as he sat with his back to the jury Monday while Court Clerk William Sitnek read the verdict.

Frazier had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity in the Oct. 19, 1970, murders of Ohta, 45; his wife Virginia, 43; their sons, Derrick, 12, and Taggart, 11, and Ohta's secretary, Dorothy Cadwallader, 38.

Their bodies were found in the swimming pool of Ohta's $250,000 hilltop mansion near Santa Cruz, 80 miles south of San Francisco by firemen seeking water to put out several deliberately set blazes at the home.

The eight women and four men who found Frazier guilty of murder return to court Thursday to determine whether he was sane when he committed the crime. The jury deliberated 21 hours over three days before reaching the guilty verdict.

If he is found sane, the same jury must then set the penalty—death or life imprisonment. Prosecutor Peter Chang Jr. said that if Frazier is ruled insane, he would be committed to a mental hospital until such time as he is considered sane. At that point, he said, Frazer could be freed.

Amendments Lined Up on Control Bill

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats lined up today to attach limiting amendments to the bill extending President Nixon's authority to control wages and prices in Phase 2.

Nixon was set back Monday when the Senate gave near-unanimous approval to a 5.5 per cent pay raise for all federal civilians and military personnel, effective Jan. 1.

The vote was 77 to 1, with Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., voting no. He declared it was "not proper to single out any one group for different treatment."

Sen. Fred Harris said he would offer an amendment to the extension bill today that would extend authority just two months beyond next June 30, instead of the year Nixon seeks. Harris's measure also would direct the President to undertake anti-trust action against many of the nation's largest corporations.

He said that would result in a 20 per cent reduction of consumer prices.

Backers of the pay hike approved Monday, which Nixon said will add $1 billion to his already deficit-ridden budget, chose the extension bill for their amendment because Nixon is believed almost certain to sign it.

It became evident in Monday's opening day of debate that efforts to block extension of Nixon's wage-price powers would fail.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., strongly opposes such an extension with the argument that Congress should see how Phase 2 works before acting.

But Proxmire conceded in the debate that the votes were not there to block extension.

Everyone Expected to Be Polite and Die in a Graceful Manner

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

We are taught almost from birth to be ambitious and get as much out of life as possible. But anyone in his 80s who aspires to live into his 90s is regarded as vain or stubborn, not ambitious. When we become something of a nuisance to others, we are all expected to be polite and die gracefully and without making too much of a bother about it.

A thing we've never heard—and never expect to—is for a pro football quarterback to ask heaven for a white Christmas.

Mere acquaintanceship doesn't always lead to knowledge. A city-born friend of mine confessed the other day he hadn't seen a live cow until his 15th birthday. When I asked him how many milk faucets there were on a cow, he confessed he didn't know. "I was just interested in what a cow looked like," he said, "not how she did her work."

As a matter of fact, probably half the population of America today doesn't know the number of faucets on a cow. The answer is four—usually.

Nothing gives a man more of a feeling of mortality than having a tooth pulled—or finding a hole in his shoe.

Success is relative, but about the hardest thing for anyone to put up with is a relative who becomes a success.

Where there is no friction in a marriage, there isn't likely to be very much real love or real hate either.

Whatever happened to the old-fashioned kitchen match? I haven't even seen one for years. Has it struck out?

The trouble with Christmas gifts is that they often aren't tokens of affection but tokens of tribute exacted under duress.

In this category fall most gifts by businessmen to their customers, gifts by nieces and nephews to wealthy aunts, and gifts by fawning parents to placate their greedy children. If we all gave presents only to those we really wanted to please, and none to those we didn't, our secret hearts would stand revealed. And who could really afford for that to happen?

Doodling has fallen to a low estate in this country. Doodling shows the state of your mind. A friend of mine has doodled the same thing—row after row of empty squares—for 25 years. If he would but now and then doodle a circle with a dot in it, that would show he wasn't altogether in a rut—and had had a fresh nonthought.

Embezzlement Trial Begins

MARION, Ark. (AP)— Testimony is to begin today in Circuit Court here before a predominately black jury in the embezzlement trial of Sheriff Marion Thomas of Crittenden County.

A panel of five white men, five black men and two black women were selected Monday.

Thomas will be tried on 56 counts of embezzlement involving $34,773.77. A Crittenden County Grand Jury returned 52 of the counts last June and four others were filed by Pros. Atty. Gerald Pearson of Jonesboro.

Killing Called Move Against Jordan King

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A guerrilla source says the assassination of Prime Minister Wasfi Tell of Jordan marks "the start of a scorched-earth struggle" against King Hussein.

Tell was assassinated by four gunmen Sunday in Cairo where he was attending a meeting of the Arab League defense council. The Black September movement, a group pledged to avenge Palestinians slain by the Jordanian army during the September 1970 civil war, claimed responsibility Monday.

The source said the group is a secret branch of Al Fatah, the largest Palestinian guerrilla organization, and that the assassination was its "first major operation."

The semiofficial Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram reported today that Cairo police are hunting for a fifth Palestinian who visited the four gunmen in their apartment prior to the assassination and "wished them success."

Al Ahram said investigators did not know the fifth man's name, but that he used the name "Abu Ahmed" or "Abu Mohammed." The paper said he also urged the assassination squad to "carry out the plan according to Ezzat's instruction." Ezzat Ahmed Rabbah is one of the four men who have been arrested and charged with the slaying. The three others are Munzer Khalifa, Ziad Bassam and Gawad Khalil Bughdadi.

Al Ahram said Khalifa told interrogators that the assassination of Tell was better than killing Moshe Dayan because Dayan "is known to be our enemy while Tell was an Arab massacring us and ordering Palestinian women to be raped and slain—Tell beats even Dayan." Dayan is the Israeli defense minister.

Bassam said the group went to Karachi, Pakistan, earlier this year to assassinate Crown Prince Hassan of Jordan, Hussein's brother, Hassan didn't arrive as scheduled.

Tell was succeeded by Finance Minister Ahmad Lozi. After assuming office Monday, Lozi flew to Cairo to attend the Arab League meeting.

The league's defense council cabled condolences on Tell's assassination to Hussein, but Al Ahram reported that Libya, whose revolutionary regime overthrew a monarchy, refused to sign the cable.

The ensuing controversy was solved by a decision to let Arab League Secretary-General Abdul Khalek Hassouna sign the cable on behalf of all delegates.

Convict Dies Enroute to Hospital

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Cummins Prison Farm officials said that Willie E. Stewart, 17, of Little Rock, who had served a one-day sentence from Faulkner County on a burglary conviction, died en route to the hospital Monday.

Correction Commissioner Terrell Don Hutto said Monday night that Stewart was preparing to return home with Faulkner County officials when he became ill.

Hutto said Stewart was being taken to the hospital in Pine Bluff by ambulance when he died.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

North's double of two clubs was one of those modern negative doubles. It showed some high cards and asked partner to bid a new suit. East's three club call was an effort to barricade South, but he was strong enough to show his diamonds at the three level and continue to game after North bid four.

A spade lead would have upset his applecart but West made the normal club opening and continued the suit. South ruffed and proceeded to make the rest of the tricks. It wasn't really difficult. Just a successful trump finesse as a starter followed by careful play and a bonus squeeze.

South ruffed the club and led the queen of diamonds. West played low and South let the queen ride. Next came the diamond nine. West played low again and this time South was careful to win the trick in dummy with the 10 spot. Then he ruffed dummy's last club with his last trump.

He got to dummy by cashing his ace of hearts and ruffing a low heart. His contract was now in the bag but the bonus squeeze developed automatically when he played dummy's last two trumps. East could not hold all his hearts and guard the king of spades. He squirmed so much before unguarding it that South read the situation and let his low heart go to hold a low spade with the ace.

What do you do now?

—Double again. This second double is also for takeout but your hand is strong enough to warrant it.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner bids three diamonds in response to your double of two hearts. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

WOMEN'S LIB has come a long way in breaking down job barriers, perhaps too far for some tastes in the case of Debbie Bohl, 18, of Ferguson, Mo. She is working her way toward college as a shoeshine girl in a barber shop in the St. Louis suburb. She takes pride in the work, she says, and is saving to continue school from weekly earnings of more than $100.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Duty of a Wife

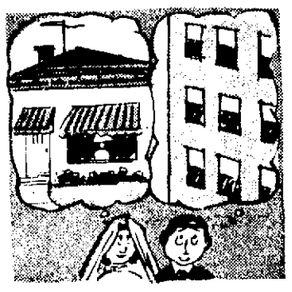

"Whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge."

Does the modern wife owe this kind of biblical loyalty to her husband? Under today's law, is she still obliged to let him choose the family home?

Almost everywhere, that continues to be the basic rule. By and large, it is the husband who has the last word as to where they will live. If the wife refuses to follow his lead, she is guilty of desertion—grounds for divorce.

Thus:

To cut expenses, a man prepared to move to a smaller apartment. But his wife decided it was "not stylish enough" for her, and went home to her parents. After a long impasse, the man finally sued for divorce and won a decree. The judge said the wife's refusal to live with him, for no good and sufficient reason, made her a deserter in the eyes of the law.

Nevertheless, the husband's authority is far from absolute. He cannot insist on a housing arrangement which is simply not fair to his spouse.

For example, one man decided to move in with his mother, even though he could well afford separate lodgings—and even though his mother and his wife did not get along with each other.

A court held, in these circumstances, that the wife had a legitimate excuse for not joining the household.

Furthermore, when a man invites his wife to join him at a new location, he must really mean it—not just be going through the motions. One cantankerous husband, having journeyed alone to the West Coast, sent back the following "invitation" to his wife:

"I have completely gotten over my regard for you, if I ever had any. However, I am doing what I must do, even though you have ruined my life. I ask you to come and make your home with me, as the law requires."

When she held back, he tried to divorce her on the grounds of desertion. But the court ruled against him. The judge said this was the kind of an invitation that no self-respecting wife could possibly accept.
